ARE NO NEARER AN AGREEMENT

CANNOT DECIDE ON A WAGE SCALE

Present Agreement Expires Next Saturday and Unless Settlement Is Made 225,000 Miners Will Strike—Fight Among Operators

Indianapolis, Ind., March 24.—After being in joint conference through committees since Thursday afternoon, the coal operators and miners are no nearer an agreement upon the wage scale to go into effect in one week than they were when the former joint conference adjourned in disagreement Feb. 2.

The present wage scale expires next Saturday and unless an agreement is reached by the miners and operators before that time, 225,000 union bituminous miners will be called from the mines in the central and southwestern districts.

The joint scale committee of the central district adjourned this afternoon after being in session four days, to meet Monday morning, when a motion to report disagreement will be offered and it is believed will be carried. A session of the joint conference to receive this report will, according to the present program, be called to meet Monday afternoon.

During the four days the operators and miners have been in conference not a motion or proposition offered by either side upon the wage scale was adopted. The operators have been confronted with serious dissensions in their own ranks. F. L. Robbins, of the western Pennsylvania operators, has agreed to pay an advance of 5.55 per cent, which is the demand made by the miners, but the operators of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio firmly refuse to pay any advance. Under the rules of the joint committee the votes of both operators and miners must be recorded as units and this division of the operators has resulted in the defeat of every motion not favorable to all of them.

The sitings of the joint scale committee have been marked by very bitter words hurled by the operators at each other. Robbins has announced that he intends to pay the increase of wages asked by the miners, not only in the mines of the Pittsburgh Coal company, of which he is president, but also in his own mines in western Pennsylvania, Ohio and Illinois. The independent operators of western Pennsylvania, represented by G. A. Magoon, have announced through him that they will pay the advance if Robbins does. Other independent mine owners have signified their intention to pay the advance if those in their district do so. Those of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio declare they cannot afford to pay any advance whatever, and President Mitchell of the mine workers' has firmly declared that no settlement will be made unless an advance in wages is given. Whether the officers of the mine workers will allow the miners to sign the scale and go to work in districts where the advance is allowed is a question the operators have tried in vain to get Mitchell to answer. The only expression Mitchell has made on the subject was to day, when he remarked in committee that the course the operators were taking might bring that question about. It is not certain that the national convention of miners, which must ratify and action taken by the joint conference, would allow any district to sign the advanced scale and go to work with other districts idle, even if such action were endorsed by the national officers.

It is freely stated that both the operators and miners are playing a waiting game, as each side desires to throw upon the other the responsibility for a strike. Robbins is doing all in his power to force an advance in wages in all states, but the operators of Ohio, Illinois and Indiana are equally firm in refusing to pay any advance.

When the joint scale committee reports a disagreement to the joint conference the fight will be renewed upon the floor and a finality will then soon be reached. The operators and miners of the southwestern district will determine their position after the discussion in the central competitive district has come to a decision.

BOWLING CONTESTS

Individual Match Furnished Sensational Work—Scores Made.

Louisville, Ky., March 24.—The last squad of bowlers in the individual class at the national tournament this evening furnished perhaps the most sensational work of the year. F. ## KEROSENE FOR SNAKE BITE.

This paper notes with deep regret that a number of persons are dying from the bite of rattlesnakes in different sections of Texas. Most all cases are young children, and in a good many instances they are bitten on the hand or foot. In such case the following remedy is said to be a splendid antidote for the rattlesnake's bite, provided it is used immediately after being bitten: Take a pan or bowl and pour in enough kerosene oil to cover the wound. It will draw the poison out immediately and in the course of a few minutes turn perfectly green. Then pour out the oil and refill the bowl, being careful to put in enough oil to completely cover the wound. Leave the foot or hand in the oil as long as the oil turns green. Then put on a poultice of plain table salt and saturate thoroughly with oil. Keep this up for about an hour and there is scarcely any danger of fatal results. Cut this out and preserve for future reference.—Merkel Mail.

Familiar Ostriches.

A traveler on the railway from Cape Town to Victoria Falls in South Africa writes: "There is not much incident on the trip, though the life at wayside stations when the engine stops for a drink is always interesting. At Mochudo two tame ostriches walked majestically up and down beside the train, their little heads on a level with the passengers, who sometimes would hand them a biscuit. I was told to keep my camera out of sight or they would gobble it up. A man was lighting a cigarette at one of the carriage windows when one of the ostriches bit from his hand and swallowed a box of matches. The matches were of the kind that light only on the outside of the box, so that the probability of the ostriches igniting on any of the stray bits of bottles on the staircase going down was minimized."

TRAIN KILLS SEVEN PERSONS

RUN DOWN AT RAILROAD CROSSING.

Three Generations of One Family Represented in the Accident—Were on Way to Attend Family Reunion.

Sunbury, Pa., March 24.—Seven persons, representing three generations of one family, were killed to day on the Philadelphia & Reading railway at Haas crossing, a mile south of this place. The dead are: G. W. Neldig, aged 63; Clarence Neldig, aged 41, and Silas Neldig, aged 36, sons of the first named; Mrs. Clarence Neldig, aged 30, and three children, Mary, aged 4, Blanch aged 6, and Gilbert, 2 years old. All were instantly killed with the exception of Blanche, who died later at the hospital.

There was to have been a family reunion to morrow at the home of G. W. Neldig at Augustaville, and the latter had driven to the home of his sons to convey the party to Augustaville. At Haas crossing the roadway crosses the railroad at a curve and the train probably was not seen in time by the party to avoid being run down. The occupants of the wagon were thrown or dragged many feet by the locomotive and their bodies terribly mangled.

LABOR LEADERS

Advise Trade Unionists to Cast Party Ties Aside and Vote for Their Own Interests.

Washington, March 24.—The executive council of the Federation of Labor to day reaffirmed its decision and the decision of the American Federation of Labor relative to political action, as follows:

"We reaffirm as one of the cardinal principles of the trades union movement that the working people must unite and organize, irrespective of creed, color, sex, nationality or politics.

"That the American Federation of Labor most firmly and unequivocally favors the independent use of the ballot by the trades unionists and workmen of the United States, regardless of party, that we may elect men from our own ranks to make new laws and administer them along lines laid down in the legislative demands of the American Federation of Labor, and at the same time secure an impartial judiciary that will not govern by arbitrary injunctions of courts nor act as pliant tools of corporate wealth.

"That, as our efforts are centered against all forms of industrial slavery and economic wrong, we must also direct our utmost energies to remove all forms of political servitude and party slavery, to the end that the working people may act as a unit at the polls at every election."

The policy of questioning candidates for office upon questions affecting the interests of labor and the people generally was decided to be continued and more aggressively prosecuted.

The complaint of the Leather Workers' International union, relative to alleged discrimination exercised against its members at the Rock Island arsenal and the piece work system prevailing there was referred to President Campers to bring to the attention of the secretary of war.

OIL HEARING

Fight of Missouri Attorney General Against the Standard Company.

New York, March 24.—It is expected that when the Standard Oil hearing is resumed next week Attorney General Hadley will begin his efforts to prove the second portion of his case, namely: That the management of the Waters-Pierce company and the Republic Oil company, as well as the Standard Oil company of Indiana, is directed from 26 Broadway, this city, under the supervision of the officers of the Standard Oil company.

At the conclusion of to day's hearing, Assistant Attorney General Lake served upon Lawyer Hagerman, representing the defense, an order requiring his clients to produce on Monday next over a hundred letters said to have passed between the respondent companies and 26 Broadway. In each instance the order cites the name of both writer and recipient, as well as the date the letter was mailed. These letters, it is understood, are expected to disclose the control of the two corporations operating in Missouri by the Standard Oil company and show that even the details of the management of the companies are directed from 26 Broadway.

Attorney General Hadley expects a contest over admission of this evidence. Lawyer Hagerman, of the Standard Oil company, said at the conclusion of the hearing to day that he felt rather pleased over the result of the first day's work. Speaking of admissions made as to stock ownership of the companies, he called attention to the fact that they had been made subject to exceptions as to their materiality, a point for higher courts yet to pass upon.

Attorney General Hadley, however, in speaking of admissions made by the Standard Oil company at to day's hearing said: "That is practically my case. This is the point I set out to establish, and I have established it beyond doubt. This admission shows that every one, no matter how powerful, must respect the majesty of the law."

MISSOURI FARMER SHOT.

Winthrop, Mo., March 23.—James M. Sego, a wealthy farmer, was shot and killed on Main street this afternoon by John R. Crook and his son, Willie, 17 years old. The father and son emptied their revolvers into Sego's body. The elder Crook was placed in jail at St. Joseph to night, but the son escaped into Kansas. The trouble grew out of the courtship of Orsio Sego, 17 years old, a student at Atchison, Kan., and Beulah Crook, 16 years old, which was objected to by Sego.

CHARGES DISMISSED.

San Francisco, March 24.—Police Judge Gablins to day dismissed the charges of manslaughter filed against Frankie Neil, Mark Shaughnessy, "Spider" Kelly, John Frayne, Timothy McGrath, Thomas Burke and Billy Roche, growing out of the death of Harry Tenny after his glove contest with Neil. The judge held that there was no evidence to sustain the charges.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Belleville, Ill., March 24.—Edward Higginbotham and James Nash were burned to death and Thomas J. Tabor fatally injured in an explosion at the Phoenix powder mill here this afternoon. ## CHICAGO FIRE

Wholesale District on Michigan Avenue Threatened.

Chicago, March 24.—The wholesale district between Randolph and Lake streets on Michigan avenue was threatened this afternoon by a fire which destroyed the five story building at 30-34 Michigan avenue, causing a loss of $15,000. A strong wind blowing from the lake made the fire one of the hardest of the year for the fire department to get under control. The building was occupied by the Goodyear Rubber company and the Beckley-Ralston company, dealers in automobile supplies.

WARRANT SWORN OUT.

A warrant was sworn out Saturday afternoon before Squire Dyer by S. L. Austin, charging Attorney J. Marshall Miller with assault and battery. The issuance of the warrant was a sequel to a difficulty which took place in Squire Arenz's court Saturday morning between Austin and Miller. The former was on the witness stand during the progress of a civil case and was being examined by Attorney Miller. He was asked to testify as to a lease handed him by the attorney, and delayed somewhat in returning it. Mr. Miller endeavored to obtain possession of the document and Mr. Austin resisted. The men were quieted by Squire Arenz and Mr. Miller apologized to the court, and it was supposed that the incident was closed. The issuance of the warrant later in the day followed. The paper has not been served, but is in the hands of the sheriff.

POLICE NEWS.

ANTI-HAZING BILL PASSED

HOUSE TAKES ACTION ON SENATE MEASURE

Protracted Debate on the Subject by Various Members—Efforts to Condone Hazing Criticized by Hepburn.

Washington, March 24.—Hazing at Annapolis Naval academy was dealt with by the house to day in the passage of the senate bill, with a house substitute. The action was taken after a protracted debate, which placed in the record the impressions of the special committee which investigated the subject recently and severe criticism of efforts to condone hazing by Hepburn of Iowa. Several amendments were proposed to the measure, but all were rejected save one making it the duty of cadet officers to report infractions of the rules, as well as other academy authorities. The bill repeals that portion of the existing law which makes it compulsory to dismiss midshipmen guilty of hazing in any degree and substitutes punishment according to the nature of the offense. Cruel and brutal hazing may be punished by dismissal.

Previous to consideration of the hazing bill 225 pension bills were passed. After the majority and minority reports on hazing had been presented, Freeland of New York, who presented the first named, and Kitchen of North Carolina, the latter, made speeches explaining their views.

Ugile of Virginia, who offered a substitute, summarized his views to be that 20 young men at the academy were guilty of hazing; that a very small minority ought to be dismissed; that the balance, instead of going scot free, ought to be punished with something more mild than dismissal. The substitute was to prevent any dismissal without trial by court-martial.

Smith of Iowa observed that if political interference with the naval and military academies should cause the officers in charge could absolutely abolish hazing.

Dawson of Iowa gave weight to Smith's opposition because the latter was a member of the appropriations committee and had had the personal experience of being hazed by the house during the week.

The speech by Hepburn of Iowa was a severe criticism of the real object of the training. These cadets were being persecuted at the expense of the nation to command the ships and men of the navy. They were, as a matter of fact, living in constant and open rebellion of the plain law of the land, with which they were more familiar than with any other. He said, in such a course of training, he said, was shown by the inefficiency of the officers.

He called attention to a list of twenty-five ships which had met disaster through bad navigation and added a reference to the recent mishap in the New York harbor. Yet, he said, there was no punishment over inflicted on a naval officer. They were tried by the citizens and former classmates.

A defense of the special was made by Padgett of Tennessee, member of the special hazing committee, who minimized the general charge as due to the pranks of boys.

Weeks of Massachusetts, who graduated from the naval academy twenty-five years ago, advocated the passage of the bill. He said in the past an epidemic of hazing had resulted in two efforts at legislation. Both laws were seemingly ill-considered, were drastic to the last degree and had done no good. This measure, he said, defined hazing and provided for graduated punishment.

The effort of Underwood of Alabama to amend the bill so as to require cadets, upon entering the academy, to pledge themselves not to participate in hazing failed.

Hepburn secured the adoption of an amendment requiring cadet officers, as well as instructors and naval officers, to report infractions of the hazing regulations, after which the bill passed.

CAPITAL NOTES.

Representative Sibley of Pennsylvania introduced a bill preventing officers or agents of the government from buying goods made by convict labor.

REMARKABLE DREAM

Members of Gang of Burglars Arrested as Result.

Wichita, Kan., March 24.—As a result of a dream, Willis Wright and Charles Fisher, charged with being members of a gang of burglars, are locked in jail to night. The store of the Wichita Sporting Goods company was robbed of goods valued at $500 Tuesday night. Last night P. W. Hockaday, principal owner of the store, in a dream, saw a robber at work. He said it was the face of Wright, a local barber, impressed with the dream, Hockaday told the police. An investigation and the subsequent arrest of Wright ensued. In his alleged confession, Wright implicated Fisher and the latter was arrested to night. Fisher, in turn, implicated others.

A deserted building of the west side was found partly filled with fine shotguns, rifles, ammunition, razors and cutlery. The Smythe Hardware company was robbed of $300 worth of goods two weeks ago, and the loot found this afternoon was part of it. Several other stores have been robbed during the past two weeks.

LETTER TO POLICY HOLDERS.

New York, March 24.—President Paul Morton of the Equitable Life Assurance society has sent a letter to the policy holders who have allowed their policies to lapse since the beginning of 1906, calling attention to the results shown in the society's annual statement of a few weeks ago after public accountants had completed their examination, and suggesting that they consider the advisability of having their policies reinstated. To this end Morton has created for the time being a special department to be devoted to handling applications for reinstatement and proposes to facilitate the matter as far as it is possible.

Five thousand citizens and a regiment of state militia were massed about the monument site, while distinguished citizens of half a dozen states occupied seats on the speakers' stand.

Speeches were made by Governor Pennypacker and Governor Vardaman, Chief Clerk Schofield of the war department, Gen. James A. Beaver, ex-governor of Pennsylvania, and Gen. Stephen D. Lee, commander in chief of the united confederate veterans.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 24.—Three Sons, Tony Miller, Charles Pecune and Paul Protokines, were arrested at Ambridge, Pa., to night, charged with attempting to wreck the Cleveland Flyer on the Pittsburg & Lake Erie railroad Jan. 28 last, in revenge for the death of a friend who had been run down by a train. A rail had been chained to the tracks and the Flyer was only saved from serious wreck by the speed at which it was traveling.

Cologne, March 24.—The gazette publishes the following from Berlin: "The tenor of Germany's declaration to be made at the next session of the conference at Algiers has been fixed for several days and it is subject to no further revision. Germany must insist on effective control by an inspector general of Moroccan police over the French and Spanish officers. She cannot give her consent that the authority of French and Spanish officers shall extend to German subjects without a guarantee for correction of mistakes by higher international authority."

ENCOURAGING REPORT.

Washington, March 24.—The state department's advice to day from Ambassador White at Algiers, relative to the progress of the Moroccan conference at that place, were very encouraging. Details of the communication are not to be had, but it is stated that they indicate that the conference is approaching a successful termination, and this may occur even as early as at the next meeting on Monday.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Cleaning Leather.

To clean leather mix together half a pound each of French chalk and fuller's earth, two ounces of powdered starch and an ounce of yellow ochre; wet this with boiling water enough to make a thin paste and add a tablespoonful of sweet oil; when cold spread on the soiled leather, let it remain until dry and brush off; wipe off every particle of the cleaning material and polish the leather with wax melted with turpentine, four ounces of wax and a gill of turpentine. If you wish to darken the leather add a little oil to the wax preparation.

To Break a Cold.

First of all, take a piping hot bath, a good laxative at night and a hot lemonade or steaming bowl of catnip or other herb tea. Then get into bed, cover up warm and stay there if possible until sure the cold is broken. Extreme caution must be observed after the profuse perspiration which follows the hot bath. In case one must get out the next day a vigorous alcohol rub should be taken in the morning in order to get up a good circulation.

MUST DIE ON THE GALLOWS

RICHARD IVENS FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER

Took the Life of Mrs. Bessie Hollister Last January—One of the Most Atrocious Murders in History of Chicago.

Chicago, March 24.—Richard G. Ivens was to day found guilty of the murder of Mrs. Bessie Hollister and sentenced to execute his crime on the gallows. But one ballot was taken. This was taken after a little over one hour's consideration of the evidence. When the clerk of Judge Smith's court had read the verdict every eye turned on the prisoner. "Give me a light," he said as he pulled a cigar from his pocket. Ivens' friends and relatives, who had attempted to establish an alibi for the defendant, were far less composed. Attorney Poltz, chief counsel for the defense, immediately asked for a new trial. The hearing on this motion probably will be held next Saturday.

The murder of Mrs. Bessie Hollister occurred on the evening of Jan. 12 last. It was one of the most atrocious and revolting in Chicago's history. Public feeling was stirred as it had not been stirred before in many years. It was the climax of a wave of crime particularly against women, generally charged to a police force numerically inadequate and inefficient. Public attention, engaged in the consideration of a number of municipal problems, by this crime, was concentrated on the necessity for fuller protection to girls and women who had become victims of thugs.

Mass meetings were held in various parts of the city and were attended liberally by conservative citizens who had previously avoided publicity. Out of private funds neighborhood police forces were provided to protect certain sections of the city and the utmost pressure was brought to bear upon the city authorities to afford greater police protection. The pressure was irresistible and recently out of the funds secured by a practical doubling of the saloon license fee, an ordinance was passed providing for 1,000 additional policemen.

Mrs. Hollister, the young wife of a prosperous business man, left her home on the day of the murder to sing at the funeral of a friend. Her body was found the following morning, near the carpenter shop owned by Ivens' father, by Richard Ivens. Young Ivens reported the discovery of the body to his father and the latter reported to the police. The same day Richard Ivens confessed to the police that he had committed the crime. In his confession he said he had dragged the woman into the alley, assaulted her and added murder to his crime by strangling her with a copper wire.

In court Ivens declared his mind was a blank concerning the crime, that he did not remember making a confession and his counsel argued that the confession was obtained while Ivens was under the hypnotic influence of Assistant Chief of Police Schmittler. An attempt also was made to establish an alibi.

ADDRESS BY W. B. MOULTON Made Before Woman's Club at Woman's College—Interesting Presentation of Civil Service Question by Head of Illinois Board.

The Woman's club has rarely met for as profitable an afternoon as yesterday's program afforded. Nearly two hundred club members and friends, among whom many men were numbered, had assembled in the Woman's college chapel when the president, Dr. Grace Dewey, called the meeting to order. There was little preliminary business. Miss Kreider opened the program most delightfully with a song, Reinecke's "Spring Flowers." Miss Kreider was assisted by Miss Long, violin, and Mrs. Colman, piano.

The Jacksonville Woman's club is an organization of varied and extended interests and thoroughly representative of the best citizenship of the town, considering directly and indirectly many problems of local and of state concern, and the cordial welcome extended the speaker of the afternoon, when Dr. Dewey soon introduced, was attested in the sympathetic attention of all present. Dr. W. B. Moulton is president of the state civil service commission; he is young, progressive—thoroughly alive to the needs of civil reform—and we were glad to hear all he would say.

Mr. Moulton assured the club members of their efficient help in the promotion of civic good. The first man on the list of vice reformers was, indeed, said Mr. Moulton, a woman. They are over back of great reforms. The term civil service is used nowadays only as a designation of a method of appointment to service. The service is not new. In early days there was no such reformtory idea in the term. There was no political pull as such down to this time of Jackson. Men served as the country needed them, irrespective of party affiliation. Merit and fitness determined everything. Under Van Buren and his compatriots, came the spoils system—the beginning of Tammany methods, with Tammany power and Tammany ideals. It said, and has been saying ever since: "If you help me, I'll help you, and we'll divide the spoils." Van Buren was secretary of state under Jackson, who started the country with a clean sweep of officials, removing in two years 1,000 appointees for political reasons. The policy continued. Mr. Moulton made the old system seem more pernicious by a graphic comparison of governmental concerns with business interests. Marshall Field would have been bankrupt and his business long ago in the hands of a receiver had it been conducted on the same principles we have tolerated in our government.

The agitators of civil service reform call our attention to the fact that as citizens we are stockholders in the great corporations of nation, state, county, etc., and we want and should demand large dividends of public service. These are to be secured through honest and efficient employees. The civil service commission is the direct expression of the people's demand for such employees. Under the old system merit counted for little and naturally so, for the appointee was responsible to the machine alone, and not for service left for the loyalty of his precinct or district to this machine. "Croaker was the boss," not the people. Few men will serve the public loyally if by appointment and support they know their chief obligation is to the party manager. Such a condition has a direful effect upon public morals. The office, instead of existing for the public, is held and managed for the interests of the man behind the desk. The same unstatesmanlike idea creeps into communities where large state institutions are located and they hold that such institutions exist as their lawful prey, not for the good of the state. What a contrast is presented in the terms "politician" and "statesman!" The politician looks at statesman, true to his name, forgetful of self, holds his duty first to the state. Our day is bringing many real statesmen to public notice.

The great work of civil service reformers has been to take institutions of a public nature entirely out of politics and manage them entirely through trained and efficient public servants, secured by some merit system. This really means by competitive examination.

In motive, civil service commissions are alike in all states where they exist. In methods they are widely different. Mr. Moulton considers the work of the Illinois commission particularly strong in some features, though scarcely up to the efficiency of the New York commission.

Many questions were asked from the house, at Mr. Moulton's request, and brought out interesting discussion. Mr. Moulton upheld the duty of discharge for inefficiency or lack of harmony (other than political or personal) as staunchly as the right of appointment for merit in the first place. He believes that Illinois is behind New York in that her superintendents of institutions are not under civil service law as there. This change would secure incentive and therefore better service from the men who serve us in such capacity. There can be little ambition for a career in any line under a four-year appointment and without provision for promotion for efficiency.

The particular workings of the commission, with its methods of conducting examinations, were freely discussed. "The hour was all too short," thought both club members and guests when Mr. Moulton concluded.

Before a pleasant social hour in the reception room, Miss Nora Taylor closed the program with a piano solo.

The banquet to be given by the club is still under discussion. Notice will be given later.

The special business of the afternoon was the announcement of the coming of the Ben Greet players, who present "Much Ado About Nothing" next Wednesday night. A great feast is expected by those who have seen these charming plays, and club members are particularly interested since the kindergarten board acts as chief patron on that occasion.

CONCERT AT STATE STREET CHURCH TUESDAY EVENING.

Over a year ago the Jacksonville Choral club gave Coleridge Taylor's "Death of Minnehaha" at Westminster church. In compliance with many requests the same work will be repeated next Tuesday evening at State Street church. This time, however, another part of Taylor's "Hiawatha music," "Hiawatha's Wedding Feast," will precede the "Death of Minnehaha." These two parts will take up the entire evening's program. The mood of these two parts is entirely different as their names suggest, yet there is a unity which binds them together like acts of the same play. Taylor has written the music to Longfellow's "Hiawatha," and like Hugo Wolf he always makes the music fit the sentiment and words of the poem. For this reason the work is full of irregularities and very treacherous to sing.

The Jacksonville Choral club now numbers nearly ninety voices and is well drilled. The soloists are to be the very best that could be procured. Mrs. Lillian French Read (soprano), sang with the club at the concert a year ago and it is because of her excellent work at that time that she has been re-engaged.

The following notice from the Musical Courier refers to the work of Garnett Hedge (tenor) in this same work: "The tenor, Garnett Hedge, who sang 'Onaway, Awake, Beloved,' from Coleridge Taylor's 'Hiawatha's Wedding Feast,' has the real heroic tenor quality and takes a high B splendidly."

Mr. Grant Hadley (baritone) has been recommended to us as the best baritone in Chicago.

Coleridge Taylor's "Hiawatha" music is pronounced by critics to be the most wonderful adaptation of music to words ever written and is something entirely new in the line of musical composition.

Those who fail to hear this concert will have reason to regret it. Tickets are 50c and 75c and are now being reserved at Smith's music store.

AMPLE ACCOMMODATION FOR EVERYONE

Our new and elegant comfortable quarters, now affording plenty of room, for the large attendance usually at our openings will assure everybody who heretofore stayed at home owing to the lack of room formerly experienced, a delightful visit of ease and comfort with us and no crowding on the occasion of our grand Easter millinery reception Thursday next.

Rubber tires. Killan & Son.

WHY NOT

GAVE HIM A STAR

Saturday morning Chief of Police George P. Davis was commended in the city building while Capt. Lee Minter presented him a gold star on behalf of a number of city employees and a few friends. Mr. Davis was greatly pleased and naturally somewhat overcome by the incident, but after the speech of presentation he collected his thoughts and made a neat speech in reply. The star is a handsome affair and is naturally highly prized by the fortunate recipient and his conduct generally entitles him to such consideration. The face of the star is inscribed "Chief of Police," while on the back are the words, "G. P. Davis. Presented by his friends. 1906."

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR SHERIFF.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for the office of sheriff, subject to the approval of the Republicans at the primaries and in convention.

CHARLES D. GRAFF.

FOR COUNTY CLERK.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the nomination for the office of county clerk, subject to the decision of the Republican voters in primaries and convention.

JAMES S. MERRILL.

FOR COUNTY JUDGE.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of county judge of Morgan county, subject to the decision of the Republican voters at the primary election, to be held April 23, 1906, and the convention follow ing.

W. M. MORRISSEY.

FOR SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of county superintendent of schools of Morgan county, subject to the decision of the Republican voters at the primary election to be held April 23, 1906.

M. L. TEST.

FOR ASSESSOR AND TREASURER.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the nomination for the office of assessor and treasurer of Morgan county, Illinois, subject to the decision of the Republican voters at the primary election.

J. W. MALLISTER, JR.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for representative in the general assembly from the Forty-fifth district. If re-elected I shall vote for the Republican candidate for United States senator receiving the highest number of votes in this senatorial district, and shall assist the state administration in its efforts to improve the public service of the state.

FRANK J. HEINL.

Jacksonville, Ill.

FOR STATE SENATOR.

I beg leave to announce myself as candidate for nomination by the Republicans of this, the Forty-fifth senatorial district of Illinois, for state senator, and will be grateful for your support at the primaries—and at the polls if I secure the nomination. It is unnecessary for me to state that, if elected, I shall be governed by the will of the Republicans of this district, expressed by their vote in the primaries, in the matter of the election of a United States senator.

HARRY M. TICKNOR.

In another column will be seen the announcement of H. M. Ticknor for the Republican nomination for senator. Mr. Ticknor has held various offices of trust in the city and county and has many friends who will help him make a strong campaign. He is a fine speaker and would readily hold his own with any one in the upper house. He is a consistent Republican and would have many elements of strength as a candidate.

In refusing a license for a Sunday theatre the city council certainly represented the sentiment of the tax payers and voters of Jacksonville. As was truly stated, the theatre is open six nights a week and every working man and woman who desires to go has abundant opportunity to do so. It does not pay to secularize the holy day and the working man is the one who can poorest afford to have it done. It is a matter of pride and congratulation that the vote was unanimous and the two absent aldermen expressed themselves unquestionably as of the same opinion as the ones present.

MR. BRYAN'S PROTEST.

Portland Oregonian: What economic truths is Mr. Carnegie interested to suppress? The libraries which he has endowed make no discrimination among economic works. The reader finds on their shelves capitalistic and socialistic books side by side and the librarians furnish one sort willingly as the other. These libraries reach a thousand persons where the colleges reach one. If Mr. Carnegie really cared to suppress the truths of economic science would he not be likely to begin in his libraries?

Nobody wishes to accuse Mr. Bryan of demagoguery, but it is just possible that he has seized the heated moment of public indignation against tainted money to pose as a martyr in the holy cause. What spoils the picture is the fact that Carnegie's money is not tainted. He has never been charged with dishonesty, cruelty or trickery. He could not help the Dingley tariff. It rained dollars and he let out his tubs. Who can blame him for it? Mr. Bryan's resignation of his trusteeship keeps his name before the public, which is generally an advantage; but in this case the advantage is more than half neutralized by a haunting reminiscence of Mr. Peck-sniff. Of course, the great champion of free silver is not a hypocrite, but he has chosen an unfortunate occasion to display his hypocrisy.

THE PRESIDENT ON IMMIGRATION. Globe-Democrat—The genuinely American character of President Roosevelt never appeared in more striking manifestation than in what he said on the subject of immigration during the course of a brief speech to representatives of the American Federation of Labor, a body in whose ranks are to be found many hundreds of persons of foreign birth, or foreign parentage. One of the contentions of those representatives in their official protest was that no results had followed an appeal to congress for "some tangible relief from the constantly growing evil of induced and undesirable immigration."

The president's answer to this was a declaration of his own belief that steps should be taken to prevent the importation of laborers under any form, and that the country should make a determined effort from now on to keep out all immigrants whose standard of living is so low as to bring about, by reason of unfair competition, the lowering of the standard of living of our own people.

But the expression, "our own people," is so flexible, because of the continued coming of thousands of immigrants who seek enrollment in the ranks of American citizenship, that there was need of a further utterance, and the president made that in a remarkably clear and concise paragraph which represents exactly the notion of the great majority of the people. He said that we cannot have too many immigrants of the right sort—namely, of those of whom "we can be fairly sure that their children and grandchildren can meet on terms of equality our children and grandchildren, so as to try to be decent citizens together and to work together for the uplifting of the republic."

If there is a provision made for being "fairly sure" of the intention and character of the immigrant, then there ought to be no serious interference with our long established policy of offering opportunity to the unfortunate and the oppressed of all nations. For every one who has made any careful or thoughtful investigation of conditions among the foreign born residents of this country remains firmly convinced of the assimilating power of America, so far as language, ideas and customs are concerned.

In one of the most interesting of these studies, "A Sketch of the Linguistic Conditions of Chicago," Prof. Carl D. Buck shows conclusively that, no matter what the nationality of the immigrant, the social and economic conditions in Chicago are such that, with large settlements of foreigners of given nationality, even when they remain more or less segregated from other race elements, and, as a rule, intermarry with themselves, there is not the slightest effect on the ultimate supremacy of the English language, or even on the character of that English. The immigrants themselves learn more or less of English according to age, length of residence, occupation and general intelligence. The second generation is bilingual, soon learning to prefer the English to the mother tongue, while the third generation often knows English alone. Professor Buck supports his view with carefully prepared statistics. What is true of language is true in other respects. The president is right when he asserts that we cannot have too many of the right kind of immigrants, and equally right in saying that we should have none at all of the wrong.

RAISING FUNDS FOR WESTERN MINERS

Local Unions Will Aid in Defense of Imprisoned Men.

The members of local labor unions are raising a fund which will be sent to the Western Federation of Miners to assist in the defense of the men who are on trial charged with the murder of Gov. Steunenberg of Idaho. The fund is being raised at the recommendation of the local Trades and Labor assembly and the same thing is being done by labor unions all over the country.

Resolutions bearing upon the matter have been adopted by the local assembly as follows:

"Whereas, The governors of Colorado and Idaho have, in collusion with the Mine Owners' association of those states, arbitrarily, unlawfully and unjustly kidnapped and removed from their homes and states and thrown into prison without any semblance of defense permitted, the officers of the Western Federation of Miners, Moyer, Haywood, Pettibone, St. John and Simpkins, under a charge of murder of ex-Gov. Steunenberg of Idaho;

"Resolved, That the Trades and Labor assembly of Jacksonville, Ill., emphatically and vigorously protest against such action by the ruling powers of Colorado and Idaho, and demand the immediate release of the imprisoned men."

"Resolved, That we pledge our moral and financial support to the victims of this latest tyrannical act of the ruling class against the producing or working class."

"Resolved, That this protest be made direct to the governors of Colorado and Idaho, and published in the local papers."

STOP THE CRUELTY

Cannot something be done to stop the cruelty practiced in our city to the poor horses, especially those on the coal wagons? The tobacco has been crowded night after night to save souls. Isn't it now time to look after the poor ill-treated, overworked, much abused horse? Why do not some of you Christian people go down to the coal yards these days and see what is taking place? I think you could then try and have a humane society organized and stop this cruelty. Citizen.

MATHIS, KAMM & SHIBE SAY: We can save you several dollars on your shoe bill this year.

WAS FICTITIOUS CALL

Investigation by the police developed the fact Saturday that the call out into police headquarters Friday night from the Illinois college dormitory was a fictitious call. Prof. Willis and Prof. Brown stated that they did not telephone the police station and that they did not give in the times of any students. This is carrying pranks to an extent wholly unwarranted by young men of common sense. The names of the students telephoned to the police were also fictitious and were the names of three young men of exemplary character and members of the Y. M. C. A.

April 2d has been decided on as the day for the display of handsome millinery goods by Miss S. M. Smith, when a fine one will be shown.

BEN GREET COMING UNDER AUSPICES OF WOMAN'S CLUB.

There is not a college town in England or America where Mr. Ben Greet is not known and loved—in fact college people are his particular friends and admirers. His first presentation in America was the old morality play "Everyman," and following it came his presentations in quite a new manner to us of the days of Shakespeare.

Previously we had had Shakespeare plays presented with brilliant and varied embellishments, but Mr. Greet stripped his presentations of all this, and gave instead the plays of Shakespeare as Shakespeare wrote them. A simple setting is used to represent the interior of an English hall and before this background move the characters. Scene follows scene, and act follows act just as Shakespeare intended and wrote and the result is the presentation of the complete drama as a great work of art and because of his courage and love of Shakespeare Mr. Greet has become as it were the high priest of the drama, and to his fold he has gathered all the lovers and students of our greatest poet.

Brown, while the visitors will be Ernest Palmer, W. P. Phillips and Carroll Erskine.

One week from to tomorrow, April 2d, will be the time for the fine display of reasonable millinery by Miss S. M. Smith, when something out of the ordinary will be shown.

MATHIS, KAMM & SHIBE SAY: Our new spring oxfords are the swiftest yet; not a thing skimped but the price.

OUR NEW MINISTER.

What makes Deuman Thompson and George W. Ryer's greatest of all character plays, "Our New Minister" which comes again to the opera house on Thursday, April 5, so powerful is the strength of its characters. It is not a one man play, every part is of weight and each part is capably handled by that sterling all star cast which will again be seen on this occasion.

The stock of millinery now shown by L. C. & R. E. Henry, south side milliners, is brand new; nothing shelf worn or old; all fresh and made up by ladies of best taste and skill, and cannot fail to please.

In Society.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Haigh on Hardin avenue was the scene of a delightful time Friday evening, the occasion being their 25th wedding anniversary. About forty friends and neighbors walked in on them unexpectedly and it is needless to say that he was fully surprised but they soon entered heartily into the spirit of the evening and made it a most delightful one for all. One of the main features of the evening was the wedding ceremony which was gone through with, the acting bride and groom being Mrs. Randall and Mr. Osborne. Mrs. Randall was dressed as a bride, wearing the bridal veil and carried real orange blossoms. After the presenting of a box of silverware to Mr. and Mrs. Haigh, all sat down to a most excellent supper, which the self invited guests took with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Haigh are the parents of five children and all were present at the celebration.

Among the out of town guests present was Mrs. Knox, of Rock Island.
